Re: In re Abhijit Prasad v. Will Lighthourne and Gina Sessions
Sixth District Court of Appeals Case No. H039167
Santa Clara County Superior Court No. 1-11-CV203380

Dear Ms. Weissburg:

The Department of Family and Children's Services (DFCS) will not provide your client a second administrative hearing.

The above-entitled appeal is about the 2010 findings by the DFCS regarding allegations of sexual abuse against your client with respect to his children, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. DFCS found that the allegation of sexual abuse by your client against his oldest child, [REDACTED], was substantiated and the allegation of sexual abuse as to his youngest child, [REDACTED], was inconclusive. The law required DFCS to report the substantiated finding to the Department of Justice (DOJ). The result of that report would be that the DOJ would place your client's name on the CACI. The law also required DFCS to notify your client of his right to an administrative hearing to have his name removed from the CACI. DFCS did so (the 2010 Notice) and provided your client with that administrative hearing in August 2010, after which the hearing officer rendered a decision that the sexual abuse allegation was appropriately substantiated as to your client's conduct toward [REDACTED] and appropriately inconclusive as to your client's conduct toward [REDACTED].

As we reported to you, an internal review by DFCS revealed that the 2010 Notice to your client incorrectly stated that DFCS had substantiated the allegation of sexual abuse against him with respect to [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] instead of [REDACTED] only as reflected in the DFCS documentation and findings provided to your client in 2010. After this mistake was identified in April 2015, it was corrected and the corrected information was immediately reported to the DOJ to ensure that the CACI did not include incorrect substantiated findings with respect to [REDACTED].

When the DFCS reported the corrected information to the DOJ, no new allegations were added or made against your client. Rather, the attached BCIA 8583, Child Abuse or Severe Neglect Indexing Form, was sent to the DOJ to correct the mistake and identify that [REDACTED] should be removed from the CACI as a substantiated referral. In fact, on the second page of the BCIA 8583, the DFCS specifically noted the information that needed correcting. As you can see on page one of the BCIA 8583, the "Type of Abuse" reported is presented in categories (e.g. physical abuse, mental/emotional suffering) and the sexual abuse category is identified singularly as, "Sexual Abuse, Assault, Exploitation." This singular sexual abuse category is mirrored in the enclosed copy of Notice of Child Abuse Central Index Listing (SOC 832) sent to your client. The addition of the words "assault" and "exploitation" to the notice sent to your client simply mirrors the description on the reporting form to the DOJ, and does not equate to new allegations against your client.

An administrative hearing was already provided to your client in August 2010, during which your client exercised his due process right to contest the DFCS's conclusions of the referrals for sexual abuse by your client against his children. As you also know since it was the subject of the above-entitled writ-petition and appeal, the hearing officer's decision concurred with the DFCS's conclusion that the allegation of sexual abuse was properly substantiated against your client with respect to [REDACTED] and inconclusive with respect to [REDACTED]. Mr. Prasad is not entitled to an additional administrative review hearing on these very same matters pending the Superior Court's determination at the remanded writ hearing.

Sincerely,

ORRY P. KORB
County Counsel

[REDACTED] SUBJECT: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] SUBJECT: [REDACTED]

The [REDACTED] County Child Welfare Services agency has completed an investigation of alleged child abuse or severe neglect and determined that the allegations of abuse or severe neglect are substantiated. Pursuant to Penal Code Section 11168(b), this is notice that the finding of substantiated abuse or severe neglect was sent to the California Department of Justice (DOJ) for inclusion in the Child Abuse Central Index (CACI). The CACI contains certain information that enables authorized entities to locate investigations of alleged child abuse or severe neglect conducted by county child welfare departments.

Law enforcement agencies, court investigators, probation departments and district attorneys may use the CACI when investigating allegations of child abuse or neglect. The CACI is also used by licensing agencies and county welfare agencies to investigate persons who apply for licenses or employment to care for children in licensed facilities. If any of these agencies receive information from the CACI that there was a prior investigation of child abuse or severe neglect, they are required to conduct an independent review of the child abuse or severe neglect investigation.
